some are on film at the Gen. Dept. and other libraries. Cemetery records are also kept in local genealogical and historical societies, public and university libraries, private collections, town halls in Connecticut, and many records are in possession of sextons and other local officials. Some can be found in the New Haven Colony Historical Society, New Haven, and other repositories. For church affiliated cemeteries, records are kept by each church or ecclesiastical authority. Many records are at the DAR Library (see their Annual Reports).

Many Connecticut cemetery records have been published in genealogical periodicals. See especially those periodicals published in Connecticut, The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, and The American Genealogist.

Sexton records and notebooks are also available. They contain information similar to tombstone inscriptions and may also show location of graves, cause of death, age, name of next of kin, etc. Some funeral home records are available, mostly dating from the late 1800s.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Charles R. Hale Collection of Cemetery Inscriptions (dating from the 1640s to ca. 1934). This collection consists of typed pages bound in volumes for each Connecticut town; there is a total of sixty volumes. Also available are index slips arranged in alphabetical order. The collection contains vital records data from some two thousand Connecticut cemeteries. This is one of the major collections available to Connecticut researchers.

Contents of index slips: name of deceased person, date of death, name of cemetery; source reference (volume and page number) for inscriptions – – for newspapers, the date of issue and page number are shown. The age is usually shown. This slip index is one of the major finding aids for the state.

Contents of tombstone inscriptions: names, location of cemetery, dates of death and birth; sometimes ages, relationships, and war data. These are in typescript format. Bound volumes are at the CSL and contain more information than the slip indexes.

The Hale Cemetery Collection is available at the CSL; it is also on film at the Gen. Dept., Brigham Young University Harold B. Lee Library (BYU-HBLL), and at other libraries. Location maps used in the Hale cemetery survey are at the CSL.

CENSUS INDEXES

YEARS	DESCRIPTION
1670	Holbrook, Jay Mack. Connecticut 1670 Census. Oxford, Mass.: Holbrook Research Institute, 1977. A reconstructed listing found in household, estate, tax, land-ownership, church and freeman lists between 1667 and 1673; includes a demographic essay and 1670 map.
1790-1850	Index to Connecticut Census Records from 1790 to 1850: slip indexes alphabetically arranged by surname for all Connecticut towns, except the New London census for 1790 which was omitted from the index (it is included in the published 1790 census index, Heads of Families . . . 1790, Connecticut). A separate index volume is available for New London County at the CSL. Contents of index slips: name of person, age, census year, volume and page number, and name of city or town; sometimes number in the family. This index relates only to the manuscript census volumes in the CSL; the volumes in the National Archives have a different pagination. This is one of the major finding aids for Connecticut researchers for the time period 1790-1850. The index is at the CSL; it is on film at the Gen. Dept. and at other libraries.
1790	U.S. Bureau of the Census. Heads of Families at the First Census of the United States . . . 1790, Connecticut. 1908. Reprint. Spartanburg, S.C.: Reprint Co., 1965; Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1972; Bountiful, Utah: Accelerated Indexing Systems, 1978. 1790 census records are also indexed in The American Genealogical-Biographical Index, 2 series (Middletown, Conn.: Godfrey Memorial Library, 1942-). This collection was originally edited by Fremont Rider.

Church Record Abstracts include vital records data from approximately two hundred church records in the state, mostly Congregational Church records housed in the CSL. They are arranged alphabetically by name in bound volumes for each church. Bound volumes of Connecticut church records in the CSL are typescript abstracts of vital records and membership records in 135 volumes. The time period covered is from the 1600s to the 1900s.

Index slips to this collection are also available. They are arranged alphabetically by surname and contain vital records data (baptisms, marriages, and deaths), as well as admissions, confessions, dismissals, church membership information, church discipline, excommunications, and owning church covenants. Contents of index slips include name of person, date of event, name of church the event occurred in, and volume and page number. Sometimes age, residence, relationships, and other data are shown. This is an important index for Connecticut researchers. The index and volumes are at the CSL; they are also on film at the Gen. Dept.

Connecticut Archives, Ecclesiastical Affairs, first series (1658-1789) is available at the CSL. It includes petitions for formation of separate societies, correspondence, and proclamations of the governor. Topics include organization and division of parishes, dissenters, and settlement and support of ministers. The arrangement is roughly chronological and the records are indexed.

Connecticut Archives, Ecclesiastical Affairs, second series (1666-1820). Documents include public acts relating to ecclesiastical affairs; correspondence; petitions and resolves relating to Congregational, Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, and Shaker societies; material relating to mission and missionary societies; the Toleration Act, and Connecticut Bible Society. The records are topically arranged and are indexed. The index contains personal names, locality references, and subjects.

The Sterling Collection is an extensive collection of church records and churchmen, mostly for the 1800s. It is available at the Sterling Memorial Library, Yale University.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Reports Guide to Church Records (1906 and 1924) is at the CSL. It includes reports of record examiners and includes both Congregational records and records of other denominations.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Inventories of church records are available at the CSL. These include Baptist, Congregational, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Universalist and Unitarian, Protestant Episcopal, and Roman Catholic churches, Jewish and Hebrew, and minor denominations and non-denominational churches. These are part of the church records survey, Historical Records Survey, WPA.

Back Issues of the Journal of The Genealogical Society of Rowan County - Back issues available for the years 1988 - 1996. The Journal is published quarterly and contains information on genealogical and historical records found in Rowan County, NC. An index and membership directory containing a surname list for our members will be published in December of each year. Membership in the Society ensures a copy of each of these publications. If you have missed a year or two the price including postage - Volume 2 thru Volume 11 is $20.00 per year. [Volumes I - (1987) and 7- (1993) sold out]

NEW! 1900 Rowan County Census - A two-volume set of approximately 360 pages each plus a full name index for each volume. We have included names, relationships, ages, occupations, and places of birth if outside North Carolina. In order to make sure the books were not too unwieldy we have split the township of Providence. This township was already divided as there were two different men who recorded the information. Volume I contains the part recorded by Stephen A. Earnhart, volume lithe section South of Bringle Road, recorded by Henry C. Peeler.
The cost of these books is $28.00 each or the set for $50.00, POSTAGE IS INCLUDED. We could have made it much smaller if we had eliminated a lot of valuable information.

ALTERNATE GENEALOGY FROM THE THOMAS FITCH FAMILY, NORWALK, CT

Several years have passed since the publishing of this Fitch Family book and several things have surfaced since that time that seem to prove some of the early genealogy of the family in America is probably partially incorrect.

John Townsend Fitch, a descendant of the Rev. James Fitch has written several books on the Rev. James Fitch and his descendants.

In his third book, "The Descendants of the Rev. James Fitch, The First Five Generations" he has the genealogy of the John Fitch named in our book as ancestor of this Fitch family and line of descent with names, dates, tombstone photos, families, as proof that we were incorrect. So after many years and much work we have another line of descent to propose. It would appear from all things studied that our Fitch family came from the line of Thomas Fitch, the brother of Rev. James Fitch. Thomas settled in Norwalk, CT, and several generations of his descendants also grew up in Norwalk.

Thomas Fitch, father of this Thomas, of Rev. James, of Joseph, and of Samuel (all who came to America) died in England about 1632. Rev. James Fitch came over at the age of 16, in 1638, and the other three brothers apparently came over around 1650 as that is when they can first be found in town records. They had a brother by the name of Nathaniel who died in England in 1648 and perhaps they came over after that time as they brought their mother with them.

Thomas Fitch, 1612-1704, married Anne Stacie/Stacy in England. He stated that the Civil War in England cost him much of his fortune and it took about all he had to get his family over to America. They were of Puritan stock. Thomas was a wool clothier and produced woolen cloth in Bocking, Essex County, England.

He had sons, Thomas Fitch, Jr. and John Fitch. Thomas was the ancestor of a future governor of Connecticut. John, the 2nd son, grew up and married in Norwalk. He married Rebecca Lindall and they had son, John b. 1677 and Nathaniel b. 1682 and 3 daughters.

Nathaniel (1682-1743) had 3 wives. His first wife as far as we know was "Elizabeth" as her name is found on a deed that she and Nathaniel signed in 1719/20. We believe that she was the mother of the children, namely John, Lindall, Elizabeth, Abigail and Mary.

John, born about 1710 to 1716. Estimated from Lindell's birth which was in 1717 and John being called the eldest son in father Nathaniel's will. John died in 1748 with small children in the house. This John married Elizabeth Beers, a near neighbor. They had 4 children as named in John's will. The eldest was Nathaniel, then John, Elizabeth and Susannah. Through land contracts, deeds, and wills we can follow three of these children.

> Nathaniel died in 1766 and his property from the fathers estate is divided.
> His brother, John, is the executor.

John, who probably is the John Fitch who married Elizabeth Lockwood in November of 1766.

Elizabeth, who married David King in 1767.

And Susannah who is not mentioned again that we have found.
She is not mentioned in the division of her brother Nathaniel's property, nor in her mother's will of a later date.

From a long line of land deeds and transactions we find out much about John Fitch and his sister Elizabeth Fitch King and their families.

In the will of Elizabeth (Beers) Fitch Elis, mother of our John Fitch, we find that she names her son as John Fitch, and his children as John Fitch, Jr., Gideon Fitch, and Susannah Fitch. She names also as her daughter, Elizabeth Fitch King, married to David King, and their children who were Nathaniel Fitch King, Sarah King and Elizabeth King. The will was written in 1777. This was before Nathaniel 1781/82 was born so he was not named in the will.

After the death of her husband, John Fitch who died in 1748, Elizabeth (Beers) Fitch married Henry Elis. That is why the will is in the name of Elizabeth Elis.

It would have been John Fitch, son of John and Elizabeth (Beers), who made the move to PA. About 1786 he sold what right he had in the homestead land of his father and that is the last we have of any deeds in his name in Norwalk. The next place we find him is in Luzerne County, PA in the Falls area in the 1790 census.

We do not know just when Elizabeth Lockwood died, but she was dead at the time of the will of her father in 1783/4. We assume that the children listed in the will of Elizabeth Elis belonged to her……John Jr., Gideon, and Susannah. We do not know for sure who was the mother of Nathaniel, born 1781/2. There were several years between Gideon and Nathaniel. John's 2nd wife was named Mary, but that is all that we have found as yet.

The son, John Jr. was most probably the young man who died in 1792 in Norwalk. His inventory contains nothing but clothes and personal possessions. But one of the expenses for his "accounting" was an "innoculation" for smallpox. One of the legends of the family was that "John Fitch" went back to Connecticut on a trip and died while he was there. It is possible that it was this John Jr. and not the father as was supposed.

Just recently we found a listing of a death in the "Luzerne Advertiser" in the middle of the year of 1815 that reported that "John Fitch died in Tunkhannock, age 78 years". This would indicate that our John did die in PA and was probably buried there. Using the 78 years this makes his birth date about 1737. No tombstone has ever been found either in PA or in CT for this John.

As with most genealogies, we cannot be sure that we are exactly correct. Most are just a work in progress.

Hoyt, David W., Genealogical History of the Hoyt, Haight and Hight Families, Providence: Providence Press Company, 1871.

Hubbard, G. Evans, A Look at Wilton, Connecticut in 1860, Wilton: A.G. Wood, published on the Internet, 2000

Jacobus, Donald Lines. History and Genealogy of the Families of Old Fairfield, The Tuttle, Morehouse & Taylor Company. Connecticut. 1930, reprinted by Genealogical Publishing Company. While centered on Fairfield, many of the Fairfield families made their way into Ridgefield, Wilton and especially Redding (once part of Fairfield). This three-volume work has much genealogical and historical information on the early settlers and can run into the 1800s.

Keeler, Wesley B., Ralph Keeler of Norwalk, Conn., and His Descendants, Vol. 1, Albany, N.Y.: 1980

Kennan, George F., An American Family: The Kennans, The First Three Generations in America, New York: W.W. Norton & Company, 2000. Insights into the family, religious and society of 18th and 19th Century New England farmers, by two-time Pulitzer Prize winner.

Kuczkowski, Michael, The Great Shad Run Mystery, The Hartford Advocate Springtimes, 1997. Interesting article on the shad runs on the Connecticut River.

Lee, W. Storrs, The Yankees of Connecticut, New York: Henry Holt and Company, 1957. Called "a fond look at the Yankee tradition that became an American tradition," the book has a good section on 17th, 18th and 19th Century farming in Connecticut (he calls the farmers "husbandmen.")

Lounsbury, Raymond H., and John Martin Smith, The Diary of Lewis W. Rude, DeKalb County, Indiana, for the Year 1864, DeKalb County, 1974. This slightly annotated diary gives insights into the life of an Indiana farmer at almost the same time the Jared Nash diary is being compiled. Rude, however, was in what was considered "the West," and was more of a pioneer than the Nashes, who lived on long-settled land.

Marvin, George Franklin and William T.R. Marvin. Descendants of Reinold and Matthew Marvin. Boston: T.R. Marvin & Son, 1904.

Methodist Almanac 1866, New York: Carlton & Porter, 1865. A particularly interesting issue since 1866 was the centenary of American Methodism. Father and perhaps others in the family were Methodists.

Morris, Edmund, Farming for Boys, Boston: Fields, Osgood & Company, 1869. A book, written "by the author of "Ten Acres Enough," describing for boys how they can be helpful on the farm.

Northrop, B.K., A Concise History and Manual of the First Congregational Church in Ridgefield, Conn., New York, 1868

Ridgefield Town Hall: records of the town clerk and the probate court.

Robinson, Solon, Facts for Farmers, New York: A.J. Johnson, 1866. A two-volume, 1,050 "bible" for 19th Century farmers, a guide to the best and latest techniques for farming.

Rockwell, George L., The History of Ridgefield, Connecticut, Ridgefield: Privately printed by the author, 1927. The largest history of the town.

Sloane, Eric, Eric Sloane's Almanac and Weather Forecaster, New York: Hawthorne Books, 1955. Much information and many insights into the life of 18th and 19th Century New England farmers.

Sloane, Eric, A Museum of Early American Tools, New York: Ballantine Books, 1973. Lavishly illustrated guide to many of the tools used by 17th through 19th Century Americans.

Thomas, Elijah L., An Abridged Genealogy of the Olmstead Family of New England, Albany: Joel Munsell, 1869

Todd, Charles Burr, The History of Redding, Connecticut, New York: The Grafton Press, 1906.

Van Hoosear, David Herman, Annals of Wilton, Vol. 1, Wilton Localities, Wilton: Wilton Historical Society, 1940. An excellent survey of the places and place names of Wilton.

Various authors, Clerk's Book of the 9th School District in Ridgefield, 1836 to 1901. Hand-written minutes of all activities of the school committee of the Flat Rock Schoolhouse, which covered the area where most of the families mentioned in the diary lived.

Ward, Geo K. Genealogy of the Olmstead Family. Compiled by Henry King Olmstead. New York, A.T. De La Mare Printing and Publishing Company, 1912.

Whiting, Samuel, The Connecticut Town-Officer, Danbury: Nathaniel L. Skinner, 1814. A guide for local officials. Excellent for insights into how town governments worked in the 1800s and what the various officials did.

Wright, Samuel Hart, M.D., Farmers' Almanac 1866, New York: A.S. Barnes & Co., 1865.

Almanacs

A.L. Scovill & Company's Farmers' & Mechanics' Almanac, Cincinnati, Ohio: A. L. Scovill & Co., 1865. Given out by pharmacies carrying Scovill patent medicines, with medical and household advice.

Ayer's American Almanac, Lowell, Mass.: Dr. J.C. Ayer and Company, 1875. Much personal health advice from a patent medicine maker.

Farmer's Almanac, Philadelphia: National Alamanac Manufactory, 1876. Good source of advice given to farmers.

Farmers and Planters Almanac, New York: Lodi Manufacturing Company, 1868. Manufacturer of fertilizers free almanac with information on products and testimonials.

Hostetter's Illustrated United States Almanac for Merchants, Mechanics, Miners, Farmers, Planters and General Family Use, Pittsburgh, Pa.: Hostetter & Smith, 1884. Published by a drug maker, containing mostly health advice related to products.

Methodist Almanac, The, New York: Carlton & Porter, 1866. This was the edition celebrating the centeary of American Methodism. Religious and historical information.

Thomas, Robert B, Old Farmers Almanac, The, Boston: William Ware & Company, Brewer & Tileston, etc, 1862, 1865, 1866, 1868, 1879, 1892, 1894. The granddaddy of all almanacs, still surviving, with much advice to farmers. Various imprints on front covers; sold promotionally to different businesses to give away or sell.

Wright, Samuel Hart, Farmers' Almanac, New York: A.S. Barnes & Company, 1866. Farm, and home, and lifestyle advice.
